NEWSLETTER - JUNE 2013

Dig it, summer is finally here, gotta love it. Time for gardens - mine is killin' - and everything green. Wish I could have included more Europe pictures in this newsletter, but there's just not enough room. Took lots of pix of some incredible places and things - including three Mallard ducks that look the frickin' same, regardless of where in the world you are. Kind of bizarre, yet comforting and grounding, for some reason. Anyway, I hope the rest of the pictures will soon be up on my new, improved website. Thanks again for tuning in, I truly do appreciate it. Got some great things coming up this June, July and August, hope to see you there!!!

EUROPE: Last month's swing through Europe with the Jukes was really tremendous. While it was hectic - with eight shows in five countries in 11 days - I was still able to get out a little and take in some of the local flavor. Scandinavia is spectacularly beautiful and the band stayed in this great, old hotel right in the heart of Stockholm. Built in 1895, (left) the exterior was definitely old world, while the rooms were very modern. After shows in Amsterdam, Norway and Sweden, we moved on to the U.K., where we had a little down-time and were able to relax a bit. In Salisbury, I enjoyed a visit to the cathedral in town (top right) which was completed in 1258. As you can see, the architectural detail was really amazing. Even the restaurants had a historic vibe - the joint where I ate breakfast (lower right) was built in 1268! Sure beats IHoP!!! In any event, I wanted to sincerely thank all of the fans that came to see the shows and gave us such a warm, enthusiastic welcome wherever we went. I realize how truly fortunate I am to have a job with such a great band and get to travel the world with them and play music. For me, it's all about the music and we really had some incredible shows and crowds in Europe. Hope to see everyone again next time we head across the pond.....

DA JUKES: Speaking of Da Jukes, we are starting to shift into summer mode and the calendar is really starting to fill up. As in the past years, we have a lot of outdoor shows planned, including a couple this month in Upstate New York. Hope to see some of you folks this summer, so please check out the tour dates below or the Jukes website for more details.....

HUMBLEBRAG: I want to thank everyone who came out to see Humblebrag's (left) New York City debut at 78 Below, a cool little club on the Upper West Side. I also want to thank my Jukes brother Chris Anderson for stopping by and sitting in for a song with us. John Isley and I will be back at 78 Below in late June and we're in the process of setting up some more dates, so stay tuned. In the meantime, take a look at our YouTube channel to see and hear some tunes from past gigs, and don't forget to "like" us on Facebook.....

ETC: Some quick notes about other projects...I'm proud to be recording with a great singer-songwriter - who is one of my former students - Julia Barry. You can check her out at www.juliabarry.com.... Early this month, I'll be playing with Arlan Feiles, another great singer-songwriter, in Asbury Park. Look for details below and check out his stuff at: www.arlanfeiles.com.....

AND DON'T FORGET: You can connect with me at my website or "like" me on Facebook. And, as I said above, I'll be relaunching my website very soon, so please keep an eye out for a brand spankin' new glennalexander.com.....
