NEWSLETTER - JULY 2013

Summer is rollin' by fast - can't believe July is here already. Got lots of different gigs this month (please check listings below), starting with the big July 4th celebration at the Stone Pony Summer Stage on the day before the holiday, July 3rd. Hope to see some of you there or down the line. Things are heatin' up, for sure, but I hope everyone is stayin' cool. Have a great summer y'all!!!!

DA JUKES: Yep, the summer is heatin' up and so is the Jukes schedule. We have a crazy amount of dates this month, taking us from the legendary Stone Pony - and the iconic July Fourth (or third!) show - to the Birchmere in Virginia (always a favorite place to gig) and up to New England. If you haven't seen The Jukes in a while, now's the time - the band is firin' on all cylinders and every show has been pretty smokin'. I'm always amazed at the talents of the great musicians I share the stage with each night. And, of course, Southside, the brains and insanity behind this operation. No one knows what's gonna happen next - including him. But, that's what makes these shows so much fun, folks - no one knows what's comin' next and every night is different. C'mon out and witness it for yourself.....

HUMBLEBRAG: I'm really excited to have a couple of great gigs this month with the Humblebrag Band. We'll be at the Westfield

Jazz Festival at the end of the month, but the July 17th gig marks the beginning of our residency at 78 Below in New York City. Going forward, Humblebrag will be at 78 Below one Wednesday of every month. We will be alternating with a new venture / band called the New York Horns - co-led by fellow Jukes John Isley, Chris Anderson and myself. The lineup is tremendous with Shawn Pelton, Tony Tino, Rusty Cloud, Neal Pawley and others. We will be playing a mix of R&B, soul, funk and blues. Check out the dates below and please come out and hang with Humblebrag and the New York Horns....we gonna have some fun now! Also please don't forget to check out Humblebrag's YouTube channel and like us on Facebook.....

AND DON'T FORGET: Check out my website and "like" me on Facebook. Oh, and my new website is coming soon!!!.....
