

GLENN ALEXANDER

GUITARIST / COMPOSER / PRODUCER

NEWSLETTER - DECEMBER 2013

It's been a year already since the GA newsletter began - my, how time flies by. It has been fun from this end and I hope you folks enjoy the jive. Winter is comin' in fast and, before you know it, it will be 2014. Hope everyone has a fantastic holiday season and a wonderful New Year celebration. Have lots of unreleased music and videos set for 2014, so stay tuned and stay warm. Once again, thanks so much for waltzing through my little corner of the world. I am always tremendously grateful and thankful to everyone who not only checks in, but provides me with the energy and inspiration to continue on my journey. Be well y'all and enjoy all that the holidays bring. Live in the moment, in the present, the now, as that is all that there is. Isn't it always now?

NEW YORK HORNS: Lots going on in the world of the New York Horns - we had a recording session last month that went really well. I enjoy making music with these guys and am often amazed at how well we all click as a unit. Everyone has different skills and ideas they bring to the project and it all flows together to create some pretty cool music. Excellent writing from all of the cats. Plus, we have a hell of a good time doing it! We hope to finish the new CD shortly and release it early in the new year. I can't wait for ya'll to hear it! We didn't have our scheduled live show in November, because - sadly - our friends at 78 Below had to close the club. It was a great place to play and we really hope it will reopen soon. But, in the meantime, we have a new place to play - Stage 72, also on Manhattan's Upper

West Side - and I hope to see some of you there for our gig on December 12th. For all the latest information, please check out the New York Horns Facebook page - including more pictures of our epic recording session, like the one of me above.....

DA JUKES: The Jukes will visit some of the usual December haunts this month - The Musikfest Café in Bethlehem, The Birchmere, The Rams Head and, of course, our annual New Year's Eve gig at the Count Basie Theatre. It's always a great night and we love ringing in the new year with lots of friends and fans. There are still some good seats available, so c'mon out and spend the last hours of 2013 with us.....

ETC: More than a year after its release, my daughter Ori'a's debut album Yellow Paint continues to get great reviews and extensive radio airplay in Europe. If you don't have her amazing first CD already, you can order it through her website ... Also, please keep checking out my new YouTube channel, as I've unearthed some vintage video of the Glenn Alexander Trio playing live at the old Cutting Room in New York City, as well as some of my appearances on late-night television. I'm working on getting those clips up very soon, so please keep checking back ... Also, I continue to get some great feedback on my new website - thank you for checking in and I'm glad you like it! I'll be adding some new pictures and videos, so stay tuned. Also, don't forget to check out my Facebook page.....

UPCOMING LIVE DATES

Thursday, December 5th — with Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes
Private Event in New York City

Thursday, December 12th — with New York Horns
Stage 72, 158 West 72nd Street, New York City — 212-362-2590 / www.stage72.com

Saturday, December 21st — with Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes
SteelStacks, 101 Founders Way, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania — 610-332-1300 / www.artsquest.org

Saturday, December 28th — with Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes
Birchmere, 3701 Mount Vernon Avenue, Alexandria, Virginia / 703-549-7500 / www.birchmere.com

Sunday, December 29th — with Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes
Rams Head Tavern, 33 West Street, Annapolis, Maryland — 401-268-4545 / www.ramsheadtavern.com

Tuesday, December 31st — with Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes
Count Basie Theatre, 99 Monmouth Street, Red Bank, New Jersey — 732-842-9000 / www.countbasietheatre.org