

GLENN ALEXANDER

GUITARIST / COMPOSER / PRODUCER

NEWSLETTER - DECEMBER 2014

Whoopie, it's December. Wrappin' up 2014 whether we like it or not. It's a time for giving and the old adage is true: giving is far more gratifying than receiving. Having said that, please read below about the song I released as a tribute to my nephew, Jay Alexander, who died from a rare form of cancer. I hope that you will download the song to honor him and raise money to help save lives. Have a great month and wonderful holidays. Looking forward to a great 2015..... Glenn

DA JUKES: Wow, this marks my fifth full year with The Jukes and what a long, strange trip it's been! December means we go to some familiar - and much beloved - places like the Rams Head and the Birchmere, and our traditional NYE show. However, this year it's at a new spot - the State Theatre in New Brunswick!!! We're psyched to start a new tradition to usher out the old and ring in the new. We hope you'll join us to welcome the hope and promise of a new year.....

Recording John Isley's charity Christmas tune

GLENN STREET LIVE:

Only one more Glenn Street Live gig left this year and John Isley (my partner-in-crime)

The crew after recording the vocals for "Here's To Jay" and I are thrilled with the feedback we've received from these shows. We're looking forward to bringing more great music and insanity into your living room in 2015, so please keep monitoring all of our social media sites - Facebook, Twitter and YouTube - for the latest info, news and videos.....

With GA3 at Crossroads in Garwood

ETC: I've just released a new song, "Here's To Jay," that I composed in memory of my nephew, Jay Alexander. Jay passed away from a rare form of cancer on November 4, 2011 at only 20 years of age. I had a lot of help from many extraordinary musicians: John Isley co-produced and mixed, Jeff Kazee is featured on keys, Tom Seguso on drums, Leigh Stuart on cello, Rowan Schoales on vocals, as well as a ton of other folks - including Jay's parents, Sheila and Greg, and his sister, Brooke Alexander. "Here's To Jay" is now available CD Baby - I encourage you download the song: www.cdbaby.com/cd/glennalexander. ONE HUNDRED PERCENT of the proceeds from this song will go to help fight this rare cancer that targets young adults. I also encourage you to donate to the Fibrolamellar Cancer Foundation - www.fibrofoundation.com - and help fund research and save lives. Thank you for your support ... Well, The New York Horns have been busy! The horns part of the group has accompanied GA3 on a number of different gigs, including stops at Glenn Street, The Bayou and 12 Grapes, an amazing music joint in upper Westchester County. We also braved some really awful weather on Thanksgiving Eve to play a great gig at Fontana's in NYC to "give thanks for the funk." That was a whole lot of fun and we are looking forward to more shows in 2015. Please keep checking our website and Facebook page for new dates ... GA3 continues to evolve and is looking forward to trying out some new, original material and, perhaps, recording. Please stay tuned.....
