

GLENN ALEXANDER

GUITARIST / COMPOSER / PRODUCER

NEWSLETTER - JANUARY 2015

Wow...another year and I'm still here. When I was much younger, just the thought of the year 2000 seemed impossible and so far away, and now it's 2015. Trust me, I'm not complaining. I'm happy to still be here on planet Earth and trying to make the most of every day. I want to thank each and every one of you for being a part of my life and I wish the absolute best for all of you in 2015. I hope to see your smiling faces this year. Happy Nude Year!!!

HERE'S TO JAY: I want to sincerely thank everyone for the response to "Here's To Jay," a song I composed in memory of my nephew, Jay Alexander, who died of cancer in 2011 at age 20.

There have been a ton of downloads and every single cent I make from this song will be donated to the Fibrolamellar Cancer Foundation - www.fibrofoundation.com. The song is still available on iTunes, Amazon, Google Play and CD Baby, so please download and help wipe out this rare cancer that targets young adults like our Jay.....

THE JUKES: Well, tonight The Jukes take the stage for our first New Year's Eve show at the State Theatre in New Brunswick and we're excited to start a new tradition. Looking ahead to January, we only have a couple of shows scheduled, but at two of our favorite joints to play: the Ridgefield Playhouse in Connecticut and BB King's Club in NYC. It's been a while since we've played either of these places and both of 'em always draw very vocal and enthusiastic audiences, so we can't wait to get back. Hope y'all will join us .....

Hittin' it at the Rams Head in Annapolis

GLENN STREET LIVE: The final Glenn Street Live gig of 2014 was a crazy party and we are looking forward to bringing a whole new year of shows right into your home. We have worked out a lot of the technical problems that plagued us early on and plan on bringing you some great new shows and surprises this year. I have to give a big shout-out to my brother, John Isley, for setting this whole shebang up - it is really a marvel of technology that we're able to do this. If you haven't tuned in, I encourage you to check it out. Please keep an eye on our Facebook, Twitter and YouTube pages for news on upcoming shows .....

ETC: I am pleased to announce that I will be joining LaBamba's Big Band - featuring Southside Johnny and Gary U.S. Bonds - for the Light of Day show at the Paramount Theatre in Asbury Park this month.

This show - now in it's 15th year - has grown bigger and bigger and is for a worthy cause: fighting Parkinson's Disease - another really horrible disease that has also touched my family. While I think the show may be sold out, I encourage y'all to please make a donation ... GA3 is planning to go into the recording studio in January and hope to have something for you soon .....
