NEWSLETTER - AUGUST 2015

The summer is flyin' by at an alarming rate...one of downsides of getting older - time moves faster. Well, our perception of time is that it is moving faster. August always seems to be the popular vacation month and I plan on participating in that as well, and doing a bit of traveling, hiking, camping and fishing. When I return I'm sure the garden will have much fruit and veggies and it will be time for freezing and canning. I hope everyone is having a great summer. Soak it all up and enjoy every moment you can. Stop out and say hi if you can

THE JUKES: Wow. What is there to say about the Stone Pony show? It was amazing on every level. The biggest-ever crowd for a Jukes show at The Pony - there were people literally hangin' on the rooftops watching. Thanks to all who turned out to all of our July shows. As I write this, I am about to leave on a road trip to New England, but watch out for The Jukes in the Pittsburgh-Cleveland area this month

GA3: The Westfield Jazz and Blues Festival was an undisputed success!!! A big crowd on a crazy-hot and humid night with the constant threat of rain - what could be better? It was a really great night musically and thanks to everyone who stopped by to say hello, gave us words of encouragement and bought some merchandise! It was a wonderful night. And, for all those who asked, the answer is yes - we WILL be recording very soon

GLENN STREET LIVE: Well, what can I say? Glenn Street Live is a work in progress. We have a whole bunch of new, state-of-the-art equipment and we are working hard to get it up and working and broadcasting...but it takes time and it's tough to work around the schedules of all the busy musicians - especially John Isley, the evil genius behind all of the technical mumbo-jumbo. So, just keep checkin' out Facebook and Twitter pages, as well as my website, for the latest news and info, and our YouTube channel for any past Glenn Street performances. Stay tuned.....

GA3 and New York Horns at the Westfield Jazz Fest

ETC: The abridged version of the New York Horns - no Jeff, Neal or Shawn, but with Tom Seguso and Steve Count more-than-ably fillin' in - had a great show at Pete's Saloon in Elmsford. The small, but enthusiastic, crowd was an equal mix of old friends and - hopefully! - new fans. We'll be puttin' some more dates up soon, so watch out! ... Had a last-minute gig with the wonderful Oria Aspen at The Bayou in Mount Vernon. We hope to have more of these laid-back jazzy sessions, so please remember to keep checkin' out my website and Facebook page for all of the latest info and news
