

GLENN ALEXANDER

GUITARIST / COMPOSER / PRODUCER

NEWSLETTER - NOVEMBER 2016

November brings our wonderful holiday of Thanksgiving - a time to reflect, be grateful and thankful for all that we have. I'm so thankful and grateful for all of my family, friends and all of the amazing people who come out to shows and support my music and what I do. I truly am blessed and so appreciative of those who share in and enjoy what I do. People who are so positive, send great energy back, have fun and all with a smile. Your support makes a huge difference and is more powerful than you know. So I say "thank you" to all of you who have taken the time to read this. Please be safe this holiday season and may your life be rich with health, love and music. Thank you!!! Glenn

With the wonderful Oria at the Pig Gig

Bar in Morristown a week later. And, once again, the first dozen or so folks in the door will receive a poster autographed by the entire band. A collector's item! The Laundromat is a very cool new joint, so c'mon out and say hello! Also, the Glenn Alexander & Shadowland debut album is now up and available for download on iTunes, Amazon, cdbaby and all of the other digital download platforms. So, that means there is now absolutely no reason for everyone NOT to have it! For those who like the old school CDs, you can order it on my website. And please remember to monitor Facebook for the latest news, updates, photos and show announcements

With Shadowland at Mexicali Live

SHADOWLAND: Thank you, thank you, thank you!!! That's all I can say to the folks who turned out for the Pig Gig!!! Wow, what a great day that was! The feedback we received was incredible, as was all the help we received that made the day a success - and I'm lookin' at you Craig, John, Flo and Zack! The band was killin', Southside sat in, it was a great success and we're gonna make it an annual event, so those who missed it, fear not! Shadowland has a couple of great gigs coming up this month - first, we share the night with LaBamba & The Hubcaps at NYC's Cutting Room. The first ten people who tell the folks at the door they're there to see Shadowland will receive a free cd and a flyer autographed by the band. We will also be at the Laundromat

Tearin' it up at BB King with the Jukes

THE JUKES: We had a couple of great shows in October - especially at BB King in NYC - and have a bit fuller slate in this month: at the Paramount Theatre in Peekskill, Infinity Hall in Hartford and SteelStacks in Pennsylvania. We're especially excited to be back at the Wellmont for the "Concert For Brendan" - a great venue and a great cause, so c'mon out

ETC: Had a fun private show with LaBamba and the Hubcaps last month in Chicago. It's always a blast to play with Richie and Mark and so I'm really lookin' forward to the Cutting Room gig this month when Shadowland shares the night with them. The next night, I am playin' a private event with them. With those guys out on the West Coast, opportunities to play together are few and far between, but when they do arise, it's pretty sweet ... Oria and I will perform at Sarah Lawrence College on Tuesday, November 15th in a series called "The Art of the Duo" It's an afternoon gig and it's free, so all are welcome and encouraged to attend
