NEWSLETTER - JANUARY 2019

Holy Cow!!! January 2019 - how did that happen?!? I can tell you that many moons ago, the year 2019 seemed like total sci-fi, something so far off it was nearly impossible to conceive. Yet, I blinked and here it is! Time does go by fast here on Planet Earth and our time is short, so I encourage everyone to try and make the most of every moment. Yes, I know that in 2018 some absurdities and blunders crept in, but many good things happened, as well. We just keep moving forward, doing our best and trying to enjoy every moment as much as possible. I do look forward to what 2019 will bring and I look forward to seeing each and every one of you at some point down the road. Happy New Year to all! Enjoy, have fun, be healthy and be safe Glenn

With The Jukes at the wonderful Birchmere

soon. Keep watchin' my YouTube channel for new content in the near future

SHADOWLAND: After a layoff of a couple of months, Shadowland is back at it in the new year! We are playin' at the beginning of the month at Beneduce Vineyards, a beautiful farm in Western New Jersey. It's been a while since our last live show, so we're really looking forward to getting back and playin' for folks. Behind the scenes, things have been really busy in Shadowland - still recording, mixing and gettin' ready for the new album to be released in the spring. I still don't have a definitive release date yet, but please keep checkin' my website, Facebook page and Twitter feed for all the latest gig dates and info ... Y'all may want to keep an eye on my website store, as I am planning' a winter sale. Details available soon! ... Still hopin' to get some videos of Shadowland's recent recording session up

With The Jukes at The Cabot in Beverly

THE JUKES: Well, another year is over, but it's never official until we ring in the new one on the Count Basie stage with Southside. We're gettin' ready to go on as I write this, but I can assure you it will be one crazy party and I hope to see some familiar faces in the crowd. After this show, the Jukes take a rare month off, but we'll be back with a vengeance in February, with shows in Virginia, North Carolina and Florida. In March, we hit Nashville and Greensboro, before heading off across the pond for a week of shows in the U.K. Then, we finish up the month in Morristown at the great Mayo Center. We'll only be home a couple of days before heading to the Midwest - Ohio, Illinois and Minneapolis. Whew! Lookin' forward to hittin' the road and seeing old and new friends along the way, so c'mon out and say hello! ... One of the funniest things I've done lately was make a video promoting the big New Year's Eve show. Of course, we shot it outside on one of the coldest days of the year and my skimpy elf outfit didn't provide a whole lot of warmth. But it was all in good fun and I got such great feedback that it was all worth it! Glad I could provide a bit of a laugh during the stressful holiday season

ETC: Oria and I were originally scheduled to play the wonderful Salt Creek Grille at the end of December, but we had to postpone because of a conflicting Jukes date. But, I'm happy to report we will be back at Salt Creek at the end of January and then again in early February. If you haven't been, the Salt Creek Grille in Princeton is a great spot for dinner and drinks. It's got a wonderfully cozy vibe and we love playin' there. Hope some of y'all will come out and share a night of jazz, blues and soul with us
