NEWSLETTER – FEBRUARY 2023

Shit, it's winter! I'm diggin' it less and less as the years go on, but at least it makes the spring so inviting. I know we can't complain, as the northeast has had a pretty mild winter thus far. Let's hope I didn't just jinx it! And I have a trip to Florida for a couple of private shows with The Jukes at the beginning of the month, so I really can't complain. Looking forward to those warm Florida temps and that sunshine! Woohoo! Have a lot of gigs in the next few months and I hope you folks don't hibernate and will venture out and say hi. Be safe and stay warm y'all! Glenn

BLUE AMERICANA: Blue Americana had such a fantastic time at Light Of Day! It was such a blast and somewhat magical this time around at Tim McLoone's Supper Club in Asbury Park. To sit in the round with the likes of Willie Nile - who was just amazing - Joe Grushecky, Marc Ribler and Joe Rapolla, was such a blast. All of the artists were just so fantastic and talented. We really look forward to being part of this great event again! The bonus was being involved in raising awareness and money in the fight against Parkinson's disease - it just felt very rewarding. My Dad suffers from this terrible disease and I wish there were better medications and, of course, a cure. For more information of the Light of Day Foundation, please hit up their website: www.lightofday.org ... Blue Americana has been busy and has many new songs recorded. We will soon begin mixing and releasing one each month, so stay tuned ... Blue Americana has a bunch more dates this month (as both a duo and as a band) at the wonderful Grillestone Restaurant in Scotch Plains. Check out the dates below and come say hello. It's got a great menu and bar and is the perfect place to hang

With Oria at McLoone's for Light of Day

With Shadowland at City Winery NYC for Light of Day

SHADOWLAND: Shadowland doesn't have any gigs in February, but like Blue Americana, we have an albums worth of material already recorded and we will be mixing and releasing a song each month - beginning this month!!! - so please be on the lookout for that ... Shadowland had a great show Light of Day show at the City Winery in New York. We hadn't played together since the Pig Gig, but it's just like ridin' a bike and everything fell into place. Love hittin' with those cats! ... Keep checkin' my Facebook page, Twitter feed my website and Shadowland website for all the latest.....

THE JUKES: The gigs are starting to come in fast and furious for Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes. We always have such a blast on stage and I am really looking forward to traveling and hitting with this great band. We start out the month with a couple of private gigs in Florida, then our annual winter hit at The legendary Stone Pony, which is always a crazy time. We Then head up north to New England, with stops in New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Boston, for a rescheduled date at the City Winery. Please check the website for ticketed gigs at www.southsidejohnny.com
